

Welcome to simple, secure, and fast digital Estate planning

Get proactive and protect your loved ones before the inevitable happens.

Sign up for free now.

Did you know?

+1 year - that's how long it can take loved ones to organize your estate when the inevitable happens

50% - of Canadians don't have a will

+10M - Canadians do not have an Estate plan in place

+60% - of Canadians that do have an estate plan, have not shared that information with anyone

What is ReadyWhen?

Welcome to ReadyWhen - simple, secure and fast digital Estate planning.

Built by industry experts, follow the step-by-step guide to identify and store the right information so your legacy is protected from the onset. Easily add family, friends, executors and professionals to your Team to ensure they can access vital information when it's needed the most.

Why start planning now?

The right planning now means less stress for your family later.

If you pass away without planning your estate, it can cause a lot of complications and confusion for your loved ones. This can add an extraordinary amount of stress during an already stressful time.

With ReadyWhen, get proactive, protect yourself and loved ones with just a few simple steps. By providing an accessible and secure digital vault, you can now easily create your Estate plan, so your loved ones are protected should the inevitable happen.

How does it work?

Start Quickly

Our step-by-step Estate planning guide will help you identify which documents to store

Helpful Reminders

You may forget to add information, to prevent that we have built-in reminders

Digital Vault

All information stored is protected by our top tier bank-level security

Complete with Ease

Simply enter or drag and drop Wills, Power of Attorney, assets and other information to complete categories and sections

Set and Share

Add family, friends, executors and professionals to your Team so they can access vital information whenever it's needed

Security is our number 1 priority

Your security is our number one priority.

We don't take the privilege of protecting your legacy lightly. That's why we built ReadyWhen with bank-level security.

Learn more about our security infrastructure here www.readywhen.ca/security.

Your Team. Your people.

With our Team's feature, you have the ability to add family, friends, executors, and professionals (legal or financial) to your account, so they have access to important information to better prepare for the inevitable.

They can access specific documents you have stored on your ReadyWhen account and in the case of professionals, enter important information on your behalf.